A well-known entrepreneurial growth and governance specialist, John draws on over 30 years of direct relevant experience to support the leaders of growth companies in his role as a hands-on Non-Executive Chairman.

During his career, John has been exposed to several hundred growth companies, variously as a CA in professional practice; as advisor and mentor; as owner-manager and investor and as Non-Executive Director and Chair. As a result, he has an almost unique set of skills and experience of the challenges that every founder / owner faces at different stages of their growth journey.

His strength lies in working closely with a founder or family business owner to help them maintain their role as a purposeful leader who builds a leadership team that is focused on sustainable (profitable & cashflow positive) growth strategies and execution - all with the support of his proprietary Enlightened Board© framework.

John is currently also Chairman of water hygiene and biosecurity specialists Scotmas Group; social business Homes for Good Investments and complex-well drilling engineers Merlin ERD and is non-executive director of The Beal Group, a second-generation family industrial textiles manufacturing company.
